REMARKS

Executive Dean of the College

We recognize tonight for two reasons Mrs. Elizabeth Parker Hanlin, homemaker, farmer, and master teacher. Not only has she reached her twenty-fifth anniversary as a member of the faculty, but she has decided to "hang up her apron."

A native of Mt. Storm and a graduate of Bayard High School, "Bettie" earned an associate in arts degree from Potomac State in 1942, a bachelor of science degree in home economics from West Virginia University in 1944, and a master of science degree in the same field from that institution in 1960.

Prior to joining the Potomac State faculty in 1957, she taught on the secondary level at Bayard and Grantsville, Md. schools. She achieved the rank of full professor at the college in 1977.

She has served on "...more committees at Potomac State and for the Presbyterian Church than I like to remember." Those of us who have worked with her on committees know that she has always been a valuable member.

"Bettie" holds membership in a variety of organizations. Vice-president of the BHS Alumni Association, she was one of the incorporators of the Potomac State College Foundation and instrumental in the reorganization of the college alumni association in 1961. The West Virginia University Home Economics Alumni Association recognized her leadership ability by electing her president.

She served as a member of the Research for Eastern Community Action Committee, state adviser for the student section of the W. Va. Home Economics Association, and a member of the advisory boards of the student section of the American Home Economics Association, the Mineral County Vocational-Technical Center, and the Cooperative Extension Service for the county.

A member of the executive committee of the Potomac Valley Sheltered Workshop, "Bettie" has been president of the Northeastern Regional Health Planning Agency and first vice-president of Delta Kappa Gamma, educational honorary for women. She was twice named Outstanding Teacher at PSC. She is also a member of Gamma Sigma Delta, an honorary for outstanding contributions to agriculture, and Kappa Delta Pi education honorary.

She has taught church school for over 30 years and conducted numerous church services in the area. She has served as Bible moderator for fifteen years and is the leader of a Monday evening prayer circle and Bible-study group at the Keyser Presbyterian Church.

She has been recognized for excellence in a number of publications including "Who's Who of American Women," "Personalities of the South", "International Who's Who in Education", "World Who's Who of Women in Education", "Outstanding Educators", and many others.

The daughter of George O'Ferrell and Lessie (Arnold) Parker, she is married to Martin Richard Hanlin. They reside at 340 Grand Avenue. Their daughter, Ellen Parker Hanlin, is a Senior Equity Trader for the DuPont Company in Wilmington, Delaware.

Looking to the future, "Bettie" will teach nutrition for us on a part-time basis. She plans to become more actively involved in the operation of her farm, Christmas tree and nursery business, known as the Kalorama Corporation.

"Bettie," we wish you a most rewarding retirement as you move from sewing needles to pine needles.

Miss June Wilson, a member of the Potomac State Dining Hall staff for the past twelve years, is retiring this year.

Prior to coming to Potomac State she was employed as a housekeeper for twenty-two years for Mr. and Mrs. Earl H. Hess and also worked at the Amcelle Plant of the Celanese Corporation of America.

June is a member of the Emmanuel Episcopal Church. She is also affiliated with Washington-Smith Auxiliary Post 152 of the American Legion in Keyser and the Ladies Auxiliary of the Veterans of Foreign Wars Post 5957 in Piedmont.

The daughter of the late Walter S. and Mary (Hardy) Wilson, she resides at 222 Virginia Street in Keyser.

June, a most happy retirement to you as you enjoy life without three hundred mouths to feed daily.

We salute Virginia Elizabeth Johnson, professor of mathematics, on the occasion of her silver anniversary as a member of our faculty and welcome her into the distinguished membership of the Quarter Century Club.

A native of Hampshire County, Virginia is a graduate of Keyser High School and Potomac State College. She earned both bachelor of science and master of arts degrees in education from West Virginia University. She was recipient of two National Science Foundation grants for additional graduate study at North-Western University of Wisconsin. She has also done graduate work at Duke University, the University of Colorado, the University of Hawaii, and West Virginia University.

After graduation from college she taught on the secondary level from 1941 to 1957. Her high school assignments included Elk Garden (1941-42) and Keyser (1947-57). She joined the Potomac State faculty as assistant professor in the fall of 1957 and achieved the rank of full professor in 1977.

While a student at Potomac State, she was a member of Sigma Phi Omega Honor Society and Eta Upsilon Gamma Sorority. When she returned to the college to teach, she became a co-sponsor of the sorority and has served as faculty representative to Sigma Phi Omega since 1967.

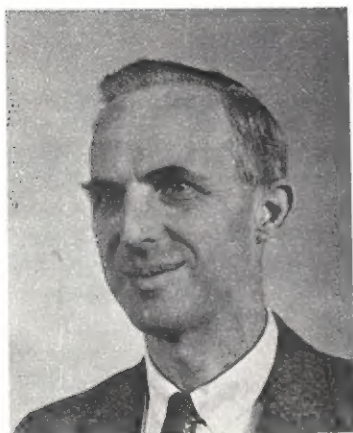

"Ginny" has served on many college committees during her tenure. Some assignments have included student life, financial aid, judicial board, and off-campus education.

She lists her hobbies as travel, fishing, and gardening. She has visited Portugal, Spain, Morocco, Canada, Mexico, Bermuda, and much of the United States including Alaska and Hawaii.

She is a member of Grace United Methodist Church, the Alkire Chapter of the Order of Eastern Star, and Phi Delta Kappa professional education fraternity.

The daughter of the late Jay E. Johnson, she resides with her mother, Nettie (Stump) Johnson, at 183 B Street. She has two brothers, Frank in Westernport, Jay in Morgantown, and a sister, Mrs. Charmaine Gwynn in Baltimore.

To the lady with all the answers, we say "Any Questions?".

We honor tonight Dr. Alan Henry Paine, who is retiring after twenty-eight years of service at Potomac State. A native of Biddeford, Maine, he was graduated from Scarborough High School. He earned a bachelor of science degree in math and industrial arts from the University of Southern Maine in 1940 and then taught at Williamstown (VT) High School in 1940-41. In July of 1942 he was drafted into the U. S. Army where he became a member of the Signal Corps, serving until 1945. His service took him to New Jersey and California and abroad to Italy, France, Germany, and England.

Upon his discharge he entered Columbia University where he received his master of arts degree in math in 1947. He then joined the faculty of Marlboro (VT) College from 1947 to 1951. He returned to Columbia for doctoral work in 1951-52. Following that year he was employed as an engineer for the Kearfott Company, Inc. from 1952-1954.

In the fall of 1954 Alan joined our faculty. In 1960 he completed his doctorate in mathematics education at Columbia.

Dr. Paine is a member of several professional organizations including the West Virginia Council of Teachers of Mathematics, National Council of Mathematics Teachers, Mathematical Associates of America, the West Virginia Academy of Science, and Phi Delta Kappa education honorary.

President of the Keyser Kiwanis Club in 1963, he has served that organization as secretary from 1957-62 and 1964 to the present. He is also active in the Presbyterian Church where he has served as Sunday School superintendent, elder, and chairman and secretary of the Board of Deacons.

Alan is married to the former Adrianna Rodgers of Brooklyn, New York. They reside at 320 Valley View Avenue. Their daughter Patty, an alumna of Potomac State, is employed by the University of Southern California at Riverside where she teaches a class in costume construction and operates a costume shop for the drama department.

Alan, we urge you to give your undivided attention to a retirement of multiple plusses and negligible minuses.
